Parents call for change after death of baby Evie

Supermarket on the move

SUPERMARKET Waitrose has announced it will be relocating its CMK store to a new multi-million pound development currently being built at Oakgrove.

The retailer's lease for its existing Midsummer Boulevard shop expires next year and it will continue to trade from there until the new store opens off Chaffron Way in Spring 2013.

All 158 employees will be offered the opportunity to transfer to the new shop, which is expected to be around 25 per cent larger and more modern than the current unit. More jobs are expected to be created.

Developer Crest Nicholson secured planning consent for the first phase of the new development in March and started work onsite in May.

The overall scheme will include around 1,000 new homes and a neighbourhood centre containing further retail and leisure units as well large areas of new parkland and ultimately a primary school and nursery.

Paul Taylor, branch manager at Waitrose Milton Keynes, who will manage the new shop, said: "The new store represents a significant investment and underlines our long-term commitment to the town.

"In many ways it will be sad to leave our existing premises, but our new home in Oakgrove will enable us to provide a significantly improved shop and range of goods for both our customers and our partners."

GRIEVING parents are calling for changes at Milton Keynes Hospital after the tragic death of their daughter.

Evie Woodcock was still born on February 28 and her parents Colin Woodcock, 35 and Leah Ralph, 24, say there should be changes to the way pregnancy problems are handled to avoid heartache.

The couple from Oakridge Park visited the hospital's Antenatal Day Assessment Unit (ADAU) four times, concerned that their unborn baby was not moving properly.

Miss Ralph said: "In between the four visits there were a number of calls but we were told she was just a 'lazy' baby.

"On the fourth visit I insisted that more be done and that we must have a scan. We had wanted one done earlier."

A scan was carried out and it showed an abnormal build up of fluid – a serious condition called Hydrops – and the couple were referred to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford.

Mr Woodcock said: "We were told that there was nothing that could be done and we could wait until 36 weeks and deliver early and hope she had grown stronger or we could terminate – which wasn't an option for us.

"We did everything we could to give Evie a good start in life and this has changed our lives."

Evie's parents Colin Woodcock and Leah Ralph with son Morgan, aged 2

There was a two per cent chance of Evie making it to 36 weeks and her devoted parents clung to this hope. Later Miss Ralph feared she was going to give birth early and the couple returned to Milton Keynes Hospital.

Miss Ralph said: "I felt there was no compassion for what we were going through, I must have been asked about seven times when the baby had last moved.

"I know that if I'd had Evie then, she would have still passed away but I could have held her breathing for ten minutes and that's all I wanted."

Three days later during a routine appointment with Miss Ralph's midwife it was discovered that Evie's heart had stopped.

Mr Woodcock added: "When we went to the labour suite we had to explain our situation over the intercom because our details hadn't been passed on as if we weren't in enough pain."

The couple lodged a formal complaint with the hospital six months ago and recently met staff who assured them that changes will be made to guidelines at the ADAU.

Tracey Payne, Head of Midwifery at MK Hospital said: "Earlier tests would have meant they would have learned of the prognosis two weeks earlier but sadly it would not have saved their baby.

"We have met with Mr Woodcock and Ms Ralph and have conveyed to them our acceptance that we could have escalated their case on their second visit to the ADAU."

Miss Ralph added: "I can't fault the doctor that referred us to Oxford, the staff at Oxford, the midwife when she was delivered and our bereavement midwife – but the rest was just unacceptable.

"There seems to be a lack of communication betweeen people and departments."

The couple are taking legal advice over seeking compensation for the cost of the funeral for baby Evie.

Lake death angler had been warned

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo

A KEEN fisherman drowned when he tried to swim out to an island at Caldecotte Lake, an inquest heard.

Jake Crawford, 21, of Backleys in Caldecotte, disappeared under the water in accident on May 26.

He had been fishing all day when his friend, Warren Lawson, went to join him.

Mr Lawson told an inquest yesterday that when he arrived at the lake at 5.30pm Mr Crawford was standing in the water about 15 feet from the bank.

He said: "I asked him what he was doing because we'd been in a bit of trouble with The Parks Trust the week before about fishing in that part of the lake. But he said that he was 21 and he could do what he wanted.

"He told me he was going to swim to the island and he'd see me in a minute.

"When he went under he was about 10 foot from the island. I expected him to come back up but he didn't."

Mr Lawson spent 20 minutes frantically searching for his friend but could not find him.

Rescue teams carried out an extensive search of the lake which was called off at 8.30pm and Mr Crawford's body was found shortly after 11.30am the next day.

Rachel Whitehall, health and safety manager at The Parks Trust, explained that the area Mr Caldecotte was fishing in was a remote area at the south of the lake. She explained that long grass has been grown to act as a barrier to discourage people from going to the water's edge. Ms Whitehall said she was satisfied with safety at the lake.

Coroner Tom Osborne ruled that Mr Crawford's death was accidental. Although he had been drinking he was below the legal drink drive limit. It is likely that Mr Crawford died four to eight minutes after going under the water.

Mr Osborne said: "If people choose to go swimming in open water they do so at their own risk.

"I hope that people will learn from Jake's death so I will not be sitting here in the future holding a inquest under similar circumstances."

Nine NHS Direct staff recognised at awards

NINE members of staff from NHS Direct's Milton Keynes contact centre are celebrating ten years of service to patients and their outstanding work.

Members of staff from the city were brought together with colleagues from other centres in the region to mark the occasion and receive thanks for their accomplishments at the NHS Direct South Values Awards.

The awards recognise people for their outstanding work and commitment to the organisation's values, and are voted for by their colleagues.

Nick Chapman, chief executive of NHS Direct, said: "I would like to say a big thank you to the all the staff who are celebrating their achievements.

"They are dedicated, committed and hard working and have made an exceptional contribution to the NHS."

'Disappointment' at rail station changes

THE Government has given permission to train operator London Midland to reduce the opening hours at two local railway stations.

Yesterday it was announced by Norman Baker MP that a number of the company's proposals, including a reduction of hours at Wolverton and Bletchley stations, had been accepted.

This means ticket office opening hours at Wolverton will be cut to 6.15-11am each weekday, and Bletchley ticket office will shut at 9pm on Monday and at 8pm Tuesday–Friday.

Labour Parliamentary spokesman Andrew Pakes said: "This is deeply disappointing news as many passengers rely on ticket staff to provide travel information and to increase the sense of security."

MP for Milton Keynes South Iain Stewart said the changes reflect the way more passengers are now buying tickets.

Hero Greg to miss Olympians tribute

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

GOLD medallist Greg Rutherford will now not be attending an event to honour Olympians and Paralympians on September 29 despite final talks to try to arrange his appearance.

A source close to the athlete yesterday confirmed he will not be at stadiummk despite discussions between his management and Milton Keynes Council officials on Monday evening.

It was hoped he would be paraded in front of MK Dons fans after a civic reception, but it has emerged he has commitments in Birmingham that cannot be changed.

The original plan was for a large event to be held in Campbell Park to celebrate everyone from the area involved in London 2012, including volunteers, and that the long jumper would be the star attraction.

An advert was placed in this paper to advertise the event, and called for the volunteer 'gamesmakers' to get involved with the celebrations. But the plans then changed to holding the event at stadiummk, which was to coincide with the MK Dons Family Fun Day.

DATE CLASH: Greg Rutherford

It is expected that those celebrations will still go ahead, but without Rutherford.

The council said the mayor had always planned to hold some kind of homecoming event since May, and that discussions have taken place with Rutherford's agents since August 18.

With regards to the change of venue, a spokesman said: "These events were always fluid and subject to change but we feel the advert has mainly done what we intended to do – to galvanise people into getting involved in the celebration.

"Campbell Park was discussed as one of the venues because we were hoping for a huge crowd to congratulate Mr Rutherford and his colleagues, and we needed a space that would allow everyone to see and meet them in safety.

"In the event that he couldn't then attend, it would be unlikely that we would attract the same number of people.

"However, the event at stadiummk and the Dons Family Day still gives the opportunity to reflect the hope of inspiring a generation and to mark the contribution of those people associated with the London Games together."

Rutherford will be paraded in front of fans in Woburn Sands on September 28.

'Road rage' assault

A SIXTY-year-old man was assaulted in an apparent road rage incident.

The victim was driving his silver Vauxhall Vectra along the V6 Grafton Gate at around 4.30pm on Sunday when a small black hatchback pulled in front of him.

Both vehicles turned into Midsummer Boulevard. The drivers got out of their vehicles and a verbal altercation took place followed by the assault.

The offender is white or olive skinned, in his early 20s, around 6ft tall of a slender build. The black hatchback car has a partial licence plate of EF11.

CAMRA listing for pub

A CMK pub has been acclaimed for the quality of its offerings by members of the town's Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) branch. Wetherspoons in Midsummer Boulevard is listed in CAMRA's Good Beer Guide 2013, published on Thursday.

Newspaper fined £900 after identifying youths

A NEWSPAPER has been ordered to pay a fine of £900 and compensation to youths whose details were wrongly included in an article by a junior reporter who broke a court order.

The Milton Keynes Citizen published the names, ages and addresses of two defendants and one victim, all aged 17 or under, who appeared at MK Magistrates' Court and were automatically covered by a section 49 order banning the reporting of anything leading to their identification.

Publisher Premier Newspapers, part of the Johnston Press group, pleaded guilty to breaking the court order on Thursday at St Albans Magistrates' Court and was fined £900. It must also pay £25 compensation to each youth. The same charge against editor Olga Norford, 56, was dropped.

Jonathan Scherbel-Ball, mitigating, said the junior reporter who wrote the article was under the impression that the court, which intermingled cases of adults and youths, was not acting as a youth court when the case was heard.

He added that the reporter also believed the legal age of an adult in court was 16, and not 18.

The mistake, not spotted by any senior staff, was printed on January 19 this year.

Mr Scherbel-Ball said: "Premier Newspapers fully accepts responsibility and express their deep regret to those involved and to the court for the inconvenience caused."

Premier Newspapers was ordered to pay £85 costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Demolition would be a bridge too far for city

SIR – I think the people of Milton Keynes should be made more aware of a preposterous planning application affecting the very heart of our city. The unawareness and lack of information I have encountered is distressing to me and to the 'uninformed'.

I refer to the proposition to demolish half of Secklow Gate bridge.

The planners at MK Council risk being seriously ashamed and embarrassed in future years if this were to go through.

Do they really want to be the team of elected and non-elected officials who historically took an axe to the Milton Keynes master plan, took away half a bridge in the very centre of this unique and proud city and put a retail edifice on an uncrossable city centre?

Primark, which already has a store being built at stadiummk, has applied for a multi-storey retail block sitting on half of Secklow Gate bridge, the very central gate through our city centre.

That closes the bridge, destroys 60-odd mature trees, and makes the whole length of the city centre uncrossable for car traffic, the number 23 bus amongst others, pedestrians and cycles.

It is an unthinkable break-up of our much-praised grid system (Midsummer Place will, we hope, mercifully be reversed to complete Midsummer Boulevard again) and a land-grab by the retail juggernaut that threatens to totally distort our city centre.

Just imagine any other city taking away half of its central bridge (Brooklyn, Budapest, Venice, Florence, Sydney or London) and building a shop on it!

Our planners and councillors should think about it very seriously, and not have to live with the shame and opprobrium of one of the most ill-conceived retail land-grabs and the mutilation of our city and its access system.

I am proud of what MK has dared to do. So should these planners and all of us be. Don't let them mess it up under pressure from short-term retailers. We or our offspring will be here long after Primark and their like have lost interest.

Can cyclists remember to share Willen Lake?

SIR – Please could you issue a polite reminder to your readers that Willen Lake is a place for all to enjoy without fear of injury or intimidation. It is not a training ground for want-to-be Tour de France competitors or other racers.

The redways and footpaths around Willen Lake are not the place to cycle at excessive speed (and often two or three abreast). All users should feel comfortable visiting the lake, and not feel intimidated by aggressive, speedy cyclists.

Please cycle responsibly, considerately and show respect for other visitors and residents.

Letter was on the right track regarding trains

SIR – I feel that Michael Weinberg is naive on his part in his letter on the West Coast Mainline franchise (More passengers will make rail deal pay off, MK LETTERS, September 5) to criticise me that I have hardly a subject on which I do not have any view.

I have a clear understanding of the functioning of Network Rail and on the franchise system since I was a public member of Network Rail for six years.

The previous Conservative Government was responsible for breaking down the unified British Rail, where laying and maintenance of track, signalling systems and the running of trains were under one management.

Now under the present system in the name of competition several train companies are allowed to run trains in the same route.

Mr Weinberg argues that FirstGroup has promised to provide additional stops in Milton Keynes. I do not understand how is it possible without affecting other operators.

For example Virgin runs three trains every hour from London to Birmingham, and only one stops at Milton Keynes. At the same time London Midland runs a slow train every hour and if Virgin is allowed to have an additional stop instead of one, it will take the business from London Midland.

Most of the passengers from Milton Keynes travel to Coventry or Birmingham. Virgin Trains provides cheap day return tickets to Birmingham for less than £18 and the senior citizens pay the same amount even at peak time.

Most of the time trains arrive on time. Naturally people would prefer to travel by Virgin. The catering facilities are adequate for the needs of the passengers.

It is true to say that there are not very many direct trains to Liverpool and the waiting time at Crewe for connecting train to Liverpool is less than half an hour, and in this case also senior citizens can get day return tickets for less than £40 even during peak hours.

It is debatable whether FirstGroup will be able to provide cheaper tickets to senior citizens than what Virgin is offering.

Network Rail has spent billions of pounds to upgrade some stations such as Rugby and Crewe and it is natural that operators have to make use of the facilities. FirstGroup has paid more than half a billion pounds for the franchise over the Virgin bid and hence they will be forced to raise the cost of tickets.

The policy of pricing at different times of the day of travel is operated by all train operators. A one day travel card from Bletchley to London costs nearly £40 and after 9.30am it costs less than £15 for senior citizens.

The operators have to reduce the cost in order to attract customers during off-peak time.

I always go by train to Birmingham, Liverpool and Manchester which are very very popular destinations from Milton Keynes.

Thank you for continuing to help prisoners abroad

The fight to come home is imperative for those who believe they will never see England again.

As for me, I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

MK generosity extends all the way to Africa

SIR – On a permit granted by Milton Keynes Council, I made a street collection on behalf of the Nyanyaano Development Project Committee, at the city centre on September 1, and raised a total of £120.52.

The total amount goes to the project committee to provide extensions of the pipeline, now in place, to the groups of houses in the town in Ghana to provide more public toilets, and to allow work to begin on setting up a secondary technical training school to teach the necessary skills required for the development and maintenance of the community's infrastructure.

I shall be grateful if you will allow me to use your paper to thank all those who made a donation in support of the cause in west Africa.

AS I stand in HMV in Central Milton Keynes, clutching my birthday vouchers, I glance around and notice I'm the youngest person in the store.

And as I pick up Rod Stewart's greatest hits on CD, and look at the £3 DVD bargains, it slowly starts to dawn on me that I really am a dinosaur.

I ask myself why are there so few young people buying music and movies? And the answer is, everyone under 40 is downloading them.

For me, I still love the feel of 'holding' my new purchase, in much the same way I still enjoy turning the pages of a real newspaper, rather than a finger flick on a 'tablet'.

I don't enjoy shopping in a 'virtual' store, preferring to hand over my cash, and walk out with something to show for it.

I can still remember the excitement of seeing Raymond Baxter demonstrating CDs on Tomorrow's World (that was an old scientific programme on BBC1 for younger readers), and the thrill of buying my first CD – Brothers In Arms by Dire Straits – and marvelling at the pure clarity of sound as I listened on my new CD player.

And that's where I appear to be stuck as far as new technology goes, apart from the obligatory mobile phone.

And so I passed the chance of having a shiny new iPad for my 'main' birthday present, opting instead for a new bicycle, which is both healthy AND fun. Not purchased on the internet, or from a supermarket, but from an old fashioned bike shop in Stony Stratford.

What was the first CD you purchased? Write to letters@mk-news.co.uk and share your nostalgic music memories.

School moves to ease CCTV fears

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

A HEADTEACHER has written to parents to ease concerns after a report revealed the use of CCTV security cameras in a school toilet block.

A freedom of information (FOI) request suggested that four CCTV cameras are being used in bathrooms and/or changing rooms at St Paul's Catholic School in Leadenhall.

The FOI request was submitted to schools across the UK by Big Brother Watch, a group set up to expose breaches of civil liberties.

It asked schools to disclose the number of cameras on their premises, the number of cameras inside, the number of cameras inside bathrooms and changing rooms and the number of pupils.

The results showed that there were four cameras in bathrooms and/or changing rooms at St Paul's Catholic School. The secondary school has 1,685 pupils.

After MK NEWS approached the school a letter was sent to parents to 'give further information about CCTV in the school'.

Headteacher Michael Manley explained that the CCTV system is designed to monitor any intruders who come into the school site and said that there is 'no CCTV coverage in changing rooms or toilet areas, including urinals and cubicles'.

He added: "The school has a two storey toilet block. Within this block there is an entrance to the girls' toilet on the ground floor and the boys' toilet on the upper floor. There is a CCTV system monitoring the entrances to the toilets from the corridor and staircase outside. The system also monitors the sink and hand wash area of the boys' toilets."

"Our aim is to ensure that the Toilet Block is felt by pupils to be a safe area which they are happy to use."

But Big Brother Watch says this research raises questions about the privacy of school children.

Nick Pickles, director of Big Brother Watch, said: "The full extent of school surveillance is far higher than we had expected and will come as a shock to many parents.

"The Home Office's proposed regulation of CCTV will not apply to schools and the new Commissioner will have absolutely no powers to do anything. Parents will be right to say that such a woefully weak system is not good enough."

Headteacher Mr Manley said he did not wish to comment further.

Three men shot in mystery airgun attack

THREE men suffered leg injuries believed to have been caused by an air weapon on Friday.
The incident happened at a recreation ground near Bossiney Place in Fishermead at around 8.50pm, when the men received minor puncture wounds to their legs.
Chief Inspector Ed McLean, the Deputy Commander of the Milton Keynes police area, said: "The men suffered minor injuries from what we believe to be an air weapon or BB gun.
"We are still speaking to the victims to establish more fully what has taken place.
"However, I would reassure the community that we do not believe this to be related to any previous incident in the Fishermead area or that it was part of a robbery or other serious criminal activity."
Anyone with any information about the incident should contact Milton Keynes CID via 101.
If you don't want to speak directly to the police, you can contact the independent charity Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or online at www.crimestoppers-uk.org.

Ex-mayor's fears over Turing 'cult'

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER mayor has warned against creating a cult around Alan Turing as preparations start on a new tribute to the wartime codebreaker.

Last Wednesday Milton Keynes Council members unanimously voted to support a lasting memorial to the Bletchley Park hero.

But during the meeting, former mayor Alderman Roger Bristow warned that vital wartime contributors by other people were in danger of being overshadowed.

There's already a street in Bletchley named after Turing and last week a Turing edition of the Monopoly game was launched.

Mr Bristow, who helped set up the Bletchley Park Trust, told MK NEWS: "I'm a little bit concerned that there seems to be a cult developing around Alan Turing and that if it hadn't been for him they wouldn't have been so successful at Bletchley Park.

"But that's a pretty gross injustice to people who were there with him and before him, and who played pivotal roles."

He cited people such as the original commander Alastair Denniston, and the man who built the first Colossus machine Tommy Flowers.

Warning: Roger Bristow has concerns over tributes

Part of the council motion passed last week is asking the decision-making cabinet to consider a 'suitable new prominent building, space or street to be named after Alan Turing'.

But Mr Bristow would like to see something that honours as many people as possible, such as a new estate with road names following a Bletchley Park theme, or buildings named after former staff.

He added: "There's a whole raft of people who deserve recognition for incredible things."

Young folk failing 'drive' test claim

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO

anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

YOUNG people in Milton Keynes have been criticised for their 'lack of drive' by a national football firm.

Football Business, which specialises in selling franchises in community five and six-a-side football leagues, was offering 18-24-year-olds the opportunity to take over a franchise for free and keep the profits. According to the company it can deliver an average annual profit of £16,500.

But the scheme has been scrapped after an unsuccessful hunt for enough up and coming businessmen.

Andy Rushton, from Football Business, said: "We found just one person that met the criteria and I am sorry to say that everyone else we interviewed and spoke to lacked something fundamental, whether it was basic literacy and numeracy skills or just sheer drive, determination and a willingness to work hard. It wasn't there."

But young people in the city have hit back. Victoria Smyth, 15, of Newport Pagnell, said: "It's a massive generalisation to suggest young people are lazy. The scheme that they're offering is a great opportunity for young people and I find it hard to believe that they couldn't find anyone suitable."

Simon Clarke, 19, from Bradville, said: "This is an exciting opportunity which I doubt young people would pass up."

Although the scheme is being placed on ice Mr Rushton urged youngsters who feel they could run their own community football business together with the support of a big football franchise firm to come forward.

Jewel thief posed as council worker

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN pretending to be from the council managed to convince a 77-year-old woman to let him into her house while an accomplice stole her jewellery.

Thames Valley Police has released e-fit images of two men they want to speak to in connection with the distraction burglary at the pensioner's home in Downs Barn.

At about 2.30pm on Saturday, September 8, a man arrived at the house in Saddlers Place and claimed to have come from the council to trim trees.

As the woman took the man to her back garden, she realised that she had left the front door open and went back to close it.

The man then asked for a glass of water and as she went to get that, she heard a loud thud and realised there was a second man upstairs.

The victim realised she was being burgled and chased the men out of the house. Police believe the men left the area in a white Audi A3.

The victim discovered a mess upstairs, and that a gold chain and an Avia gold watch had been stolen.

The two men are both white, about six-feet tall, of a large build and about 40 years old.

SUSPECTS: Police e-fit of the two men they want to question

The first offender, who claimed to be from the council, has dark brown short hair and was clean shaven. He was wearing sunglasses, a light blue long-sleeve shirt, dark grey trousers and a dark grey V-neck sleeveless jumper.

The second man was wearing dark clothing and a padded dark coloured jacket. He looked like he was wearing a wig which had thick brown hair.

He wore dark sunglasses that he kept on the whole time. DC Lucy Jarrett from Milton Keynes police station said: "I am appealing for any one who recognises the faces in the e-fit to come forward, or anyone who has any information about the offence or any witnesses.

"Also if anyone saw two men in a white Audi A3 behaving suspiciously in the area before the offence or driving off after the offence."

If you can help, call 101 and ask to speak to DC Jarrett.

Get Milton Keynes thinking campaign

Join in the Stephen Perse Foundation's Get Milton Keynes Thinking campaign. Every week, for four weeks, we'll be posing a philosophical question for you to answer here in the MK News. The questions will be similar to those asked of the children at the Stephen Perse Foundation's schools in Cambridge as part of our unique curriculum. They are designed to exercise the mind in exploring possible solutions to something that has no right or wrong answer but can be viewed from many different perspectives. The results are always interesting and intriguing and sometimes very entertaining!

You can see some of our children at work in a short film on the MK News website www.mk-news.co.uk

This week's question is:

As long as you get there, does it matter how?

If you'd like to take part, please give this some thought and then post your response on the MK News homepage: www.mk-news.co.uk

We look forward to hearing what you think and to publishing a selection of the best responses.

Sheriff hitting the trail to raise funds

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE High Sheriff is galloping towards a £50,000 fundraising total as she rides her way across the county.

Carolyn Cumming, the High Sheriff of Buckinghamshire, is making an eight-day journey from Olney to the south of Bucks on trusty steed Dylan.

The ultimate aim of the ride is to raise £50,000 for the MK and Bucks Community Foundations, but she is also visiting organisations and charities during the trip to try to raise their profiles.

She said: "The idea came to me because I thought I ought to do something sporty in this Olympic year, and this is the main sporty thing I do.

"Also in times past the High Sheriff would have escorted judges across county borders on horseback.

"I'm writing a daily blog as I thought it would be a good way of making more people aware of the good work the Community Foundation does and the causes it supports."

On Monday the High Sheriff arrived in Tinkers Bridge with her entourage, including The Parks Trust guide Angela Krupinski.

High Sheriff Carolyn Cumming stops to meet children from Charles Warren Academy during her charity ride across the county

She was greeted by children from The Charles Warren Academy in Simpson, and popped in to the Tinkers Bridge Drop-In Centre which provides daily community services such as play groups and job clubs – the kind of organisation the High Sheriff is hoping to make people aware of.

Carl Wright, who soon has a job interview thanks to the work at the centre, said: "I would be lost without the centre basically, it's such a good place to come to search for jobs and other things you need. Without it I wouldn't know what to do."

Pushy Salesmen? Not With Cloudy2Clear!

Cloudy2Clear Windows, the Milton Keynes based window repair company, are revolutionising how homeowners view double glazing in our area. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as customers take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley, is convinced that much of his success is down to the fact that he employs tradesmen, not salesmen. 'If you think about it, who wants to deal with the dreaded double glazing salesman? The thought of going through the whole tedious process of haggling with someone who arrives at 7 at night and then camps themselves in your house until midnight is not one most people find attractive. A lot of our customers are elderly and can feel very pressurised by sales tactics. We set out from day one to be very different.'

Billy makes very sure his customers are looked after right from the first time Cloudy2Clear arrive at the house. 'All our staff arrive in uniforms so the customer knows who they are and I insist that they wear plastic overshoes to protect the customers carpets. We then measure the windows that have a problem and price the job up there and then, which usually takes around 15 minutes. If the customer wants the job doing we'll arrange installation but if they want to call us back later that's fine. What I don't want to hear from any of my customers is that they felt pushed into anything. It's just not our style.

We're trying to give the glazing industry a reputable face and the evidence of my order book tells me my customers like our approach.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be more than happy to help!

ADVERTORIAL

FASHION THE FUTURE FOR YOU.

H&M is all about bringing the catwalk closer to our customers. So, here's some good news: we're opening two brand new stores right on your doorstep – one in the £56m stadium:mk retail park and one in The Mall Luton. Good news for fashion lovers, great news for people who want to grow their career with us. Just ask some of our team.

HASS joined H&M as a part-time Sales Advisor while he was studying, and went full-time after graduating. Six months later he was a Trainee Floor Manager, and in just over three years the 25-year-old became Store Manager.

He says: "I've managed to make my own success story. And I'm nowhere near finished yet. I always had a plan to progress. You have support all around you here. There are so many opportunities, wherever you look. No one will spoon-feed you, but they'll always back you.

"The thing is, H&M doesn't expect you to be perfect. You're allowed to make mistakes, but the main thing they want is people who'll address them properly. That's how you grow.

"As for the future, I'd like to manage one of the bigger stores. Maybe in central London. I want to show the world what I can do."

CIARAN started in Ireland as a Sales Advisor in 2005. The 26-year-old is now a Visual Merchandiser, and his plans don't stop there.

He says: "I worked for eight months as a Sales Advisor and then got the Trainee Visual role. As H&M is rapidly expanding I kept up pace. And now I help with the development of visual teams all over Ireland.

"H&M are amazing to their staff. I've always felt like an essential part of a creative team. As for me, I'm working my way toward Visual Manager. With the support of my colleagues I'll get there. It's what H&M is all about."

MARTA swapped Poland for Ireland six years ago. She struggled to find a job that sparked her enthusiasm and rewarded her ambition. That all changed when she joined us as a Sales Advisor. Within two years the 26-year-old was a fully trained manager and she now heads up her own department.

She says: "From the start there were lots of opportunities to develop my skills and loads of responsibility, which I love. I always knew I wanted to work somewhere I could stay and progress, and that's what I've found.

"We want the company to grow so we can grow with it. But it's not just about financial results. It's also the good we do – such as our campaigns for WaterAid, AIDS charities, and more sustainable cotton around the world. It's something to be proud of."

NATALIE started her career at H&M as Ladieswear Floor Manager. She hasn't been here long, yet the 28-year-old is already a Store Manager.

She says: "I had experience with three other retailers, but something was missing. I wanted to move here because they have better benefits, a better structure and they treat their people really well.

"Having worked here for just a little while, I already know this is where I'm going to stay. The best thing is you get to be your own person. You don't need a work face. And everyone is great at giving honest, straightforward feedback, so it takes no time to develop and grow.

"When you're offered progression it's not an empty promise. And because of that I can look new starters in the eye and say 'Look at how it's been for me. It can be this way for you too.' Everyone has the chance to style their career the way they want, which makes it an incredibly upbeat, positive place to work."

AIMEE is a 27-year-old Store Manager. She started at H&M as a part-time Sales Advisor while she was studying, soon becoming Weekend Supervisor. And after going full-time she took just three years to progress to where she is today.

She says: "When I first joined, I didn't think I'd stay with H&M. But I've simply never wanted to leave. And I could never work for another retailer now. Nowhere else has the same buzzy atmosphere. And they really believe in you here.

"If you're hungry enough for it, they'll give you all the tools you need to tailor-make your career. And there are so many chances and opportunities to take – promotion can come incredibly fast. If H&M see something in you, they'll play to your strengths and move heaven and earth to make sure you're using your talents in the best way.

"As for where I'll end up, there are so many opportunities on offer that I honestly can't pinpoint just one."

MK clinic donates kit to Third World charity

HEALTHCARE in Third World countries has received a boost after a donation of equipment from Milton Keynes.

BMI Saxon Clinic, based on the Milton Keynes Hospital campus, has just installed eight new machines in its anaesthetic unit.

The old kit, which is fully-functional, has been given to Med-Aid, which helps equip hospitals in the developing world.

One machine is going to Uganda, another is earmarked for a hospital in Malawi, and a third is heading to Kenya.

Chief executive at Med-Aid and a former medic at BMI Saxon Clinic, Tim Beacon, said: "I really can't overstate how much hospitals in the developing world need our old equipment.

"These machines will help improve the lives of thousands of people for many for years to come."

Alan Hacking, (pictured) theatre manager at The Saxon Clinic, said: "Obviously we strive to install the latest equipment at our hospital but that doesn't mean the older equipment should go to waste.

"It is great to know we are helping people who are much less fortunate than us."

Health services could do better

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE city's mental health boss is pleased with the results of a new patient survey – even though it has revealed areas where they still need to improve.

A survey by the Care Quality Commission looked at 273 users of the mental health provision run by MK Community Health Services (MKCHS).

It shows performance is 'about the same' as other providers nationwide.

Anna Selby, operational director for the services, said she is happy with progress in the face of stiff efficiency savings.

"Our performance hasn't dipped and I'm pleased we are looking about the same as elsewhere," she said.

"We are into our third year of efficiency savings, so the quality of our care hasn't been compromised.

"A couple of years ago we had quite a poor outcome from a user survey, and we worked hard to improve. I'm pleased our performance has remained where it was from last year."

But MKCHS did get some low scores in the survey, including a 4.5 out of ten for support to carers.

Ms Selby added: "We can see we have still got some areas for improvement and we will now draw up an action plan to tackle those challenges."

OAPs' concern at state of footpaths

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

UNEVEN and damaged pavements are a danger to disabled and elderly people, according to one of the city's councillors.

Margaret Burke, councillor for the Stantonbury Ward, has spoken out about the state of the paths in Minstrel Court, Bradville, which is home to a number of elderly and disabled residents.

She said: "It is disgusting. Minstrell Court has 23 bungalows and three of the drain surrounds are crumbling."

A number of residents have also voiced their concern after a man tripped over a loose drain cover and injured himself.

Cecil Wright, 97, said: "It's a dangerous place to walk. I've started taking a different route. I haven't fallen yet but it's not worth risking.

"I have a lady bring me my meals on wheels and I've told her to go round a different way. She's got hot plates and if she fell she could badly injure herself.

"I've been here since 1987 and I haven't known there to be anything done to the paths by the council since then. If you fall over on the drain you could break your ankle or your foot."

The cracked paving problem also affects nearby Woodstock where the issue is made worse by overgrown bushes.

Cllr Burke added: "Most of the pathway is uneven and cracked and a number of the residents use a stick to get around. It is frightening to watch them hobbling along the paths."

A Milton Keynes Council spokesman said: "It has been agreed to action some repairs. We would like to thank Cllr Burke for bringing it to our attention.

Stowaways caught crammed into lorry

THESE five would-be illegal immigrants, lying on washing machines in the back of a lorry bound for the city, were stopped from entering the country by Border Force officers in France.

The Afghan nationals were discovered at the Port of Calais on August 27 as the Bulgarian-registered lorry waited to board a ferry to the UK, on its way to Blakelands.

The stowaways, found using carbon dioxide detectors, were handed over to the French border police.

Mascot dream for 'nervous' Thomas

PRIDE: Thomas with Gary

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

IT WAS a big night for two Milton Keynes residents as the Scotland national team walked out at Hampden Park last week.

That's because before their World Cup qualifying game against Macedonia, ten-year-old Thomas Coltart, from Westcroft, had the experience of a lifetime as he escorted the players on to the pitch in front of tens of thousands of Scottish fans.

MK Dons centre back Gary MacKenzie was also called up to the national team for the first time, although he did not get as much time on the pitch as Thomas, as he was an unused substitute.

Scotland fan Thomas, who won the player escort place after entering a national competition on the McDonald's KickStart website, said: "It was so exciting to walk out at a World Cup match with Scotland.

"I was little nervous but once we were on the pitch it was brilliant. I can't wait to tell my friends at school all about it."

Thomas walked out with Gary Caldwell before taking to the stands to watch the game with his family.

The experience was organised as part of the McDonald's Player Escort scheme.

PRIDE: Stantonbury School receives the award

School hits high note

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY school has again proved it is one of the best places in the country to study art.

Stantonbury Campus has been awarded the ArtsMark Gold for a fourth time, a level only four schools in the country have ever reached.

The campus has now been rewarded with a plaque to recognise the special achievement, and students and staff couldn't be more proud.

Head of Performing Arts, Martin Wakley, said: "A huge amount of hard work has gone into this.

"Government funding for specialist schools such as ours was cut two years ago, but the governors have continued to support art regardless."

News of the award has come after other achievements at the campus.

This summer's GCSE results were the best ever, A-Level results were also strong and Level 3 BTEC Performing Arts and Sports students were at the highest level nationally for added value.

Mr Wakley has only just moved into his role after seven years as head of music, taking over from the now retired Trevor Harris.

He added: "People are now working all over the place and some of our students have gone on to amazing things.

"One student gained a scholarship at Cambridge University, another plays piano on cruise ships and then there is Tim Searle, the film producer."

Asked to choose a particular highlight, Mr Wakley pointed to musicals the school has produced, saying that they bring together a wide range of art disciplines.

The school has performed West Side Story and Oklahoma in recent times, and also worked with primary schools.

Graffiti cows need udder place to live

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

TWO giant graffiti cows are now in need of a new home for the winter.

Currently the duo is grazing outside Pollards in Fenny Stratford but sadly the artwork won't be able to brave the harsh winter weather.

The head-turner was created by a professional Milton Keynes-based graffiti artist, Niel Kean, for the Fenny Poppers Festival.

Martin Westley, one of the festival organisers, said: "A few people have shown an interest but they've all fallen through once they realise how big it is.

"They were painted during the festival and it created a lot of interest because people could see the process.

"One idea has been to paint over them in white, store them until next year and use it as a blank canvas next year, but it would be great if some one could give them a new home."

The artwork also features a section dedicated to Pollards, and because the canvas can be taken apart the company is going to keep this part of the display.

The 2.4x3.6-metre bovine art needs to be housed indoors to protect it from weather damage.

'MOOVING': The graffiti cows

Mr Westley said: "Anyone who could take it off our hands for a small donation should get in touch.

"The donation would cover the cost of replacing the materials that went into creating it so we can do it again next year."

If you know of anywhere the cows can be moved for storage, contact the group on fennyfestival.fennystratford.org.uk or visit www.facebook.com/FennyPoppersFestival.

Schoolboy businessmen

IT STARTED as a hobby, but now schoolboys Carl Mason and Lewis Thompson are making money from their video company. ADAM GRINSELL meets one of the young entrepreneurs.

THERE'S nothing like getting started early in business – and two entrepreneurs have done just that, launching a video production company while still at school.

Carl Mason and Lewis Thompson, both aged just 14, are probably the freshest-faced businessmen in the whole of Milton Keynes.

The pair, who both attend Shenley Brook End Secondary School, own and run RedRobotTV, and have already started reaping the benefits of their hard work.

They are earning money from the professional video production company, and have now even made a documentary featuring two world famous Olympic silver medal-winning athletes.

But Carl, the company's producer, is keeping his feet on the ground.

"I don't think we've ever classed ourselves as entrepreneurs, we just see it as a hobby and it's an added extra that we can make money," he said.

"It's just something we enjoy doing and will continue to do."

The pair started making videos together last year for a bit of fun, and created their own 'channels' on video-sharing website YouTube. This meant they would get a bit of money for whenever someone clicked on their video, or an advert on their webpage.

But after a succession of hit clips, they set up a dedicated YouTube channel for RedRobotTV, and started picking up jobs.

"The first thing we did was a promotional video for Buckinghamshire Railway Centre – we went in there for a few days for free, and we got paid for advertising and promoting them," Carl said.

"We do videos if there's a particular event going on, such as Collectormania earlier this year, but mainly now we've started doing product reviews for companies such as Vodafone.

"These companies might want to promote their products to people of a certain age, and that's why I think we've caught people's attentions – we are younger compared to other companies in Milton Keynes.

"They want a younger generation to promote things, and make their videos unique."

But for all those budding directors and producers out there, the equipment doesn't come cheap to make your videos look professional.

Luckily, Carl is also a child actor, and after appearing in a Jamie Oliver commercial he was able to get the duo started.

As well as the cameras, dollys, jibs and other professional kit, the boys have a space to produce all of their work.

"We've got a studio, which originally started out in a shed, and we renovated that into a proper set-up."

putting city in the frame

And now the wannabe Spielbergs are rubbing shoulders with the Milton Keynes A-list – their next project, which comes out on their YouTube channel next week, is a documentary following Olympic badminton silver medallists Nathan Robertson and Gail Emms.

Entitled 'The Moment They Shined', the film looks at the inspiring effect the athletes have had on the younger generations, and follows Nathan as he carries the Olympic torch.

Carl said: "When Nathan did the torch relay in Wembley, he invited us down and we got private passes to follow him inside.

"Then Nathan and Gail came round to our house, and we interviewed them as well as young athletes that have been inspired by them.

"I was a heavy badminton player when I was a bit younger, and as I have been inspired by them personally it's something we wanted to do.

"Nathan and Gail have seen the video and they are pleased with how it's turned out, so hopefully that will be the reaction from the public as well."

The video is also being supported by Milton Keynes-based Badminton England, which is promoting it for them.

But where can Carl and Lewis possible go from here?

Carl explained: "Every video we make is a prime example of the kinds of things we do, and hopefully companies will see that.

"Our next step depends on how popular our videos get.

"We need to try a different variety of genres, see what works best and what is most popular, and use that to become a proper business.

"We want this to be our living, and for this to be our full-time job.

Petrol station pump attendants are back

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

PETROL pump attendants are making a comeback on garage forecourts in Milton Keynes.

They will fill your car with fuel, check the oil and carry out safety checks like testing tyre pressures and making sure the tread depth is legal. They will even give advice on driving in difficult conditions.

The move by Shell, which has four garages in MK, has brought back some fond memories for one of their former employees.

Fiona Youlton, from Olney, worked as a pump attendant in Newport Pagnell in 1964 – and it was there that she met her husband, Peter.

"I was 17, he was 19," she said. "He was working in the parts department at the garage at the same time as me."

As well as filling tanks, Fiona was tasked with other important maintenance jobs such as checking oil and water.

She recalls her time on the forecourt fondly, remembering that people used to be friendly – and perhaps had a bit more money.

"Petrol was relatively cheap, just under 25p per gallon. Often when people paid you, they would tell you to keep the change!

"Back then the petrol didn't stop coming out of the pump when the tank was full, and once I got covered in diesel as I didn't stop filling in time.

"But I enjoyed the work. It was a great time with great memories."

Fiona offers tips to pump attendant Alfie with manager Sarvan at Shell's Fox Milne garage

So what advice would Fiona give to the new young pretenders?

"Just smile and be friendly, chatty and helpful."

This week Fiona visited Shell's Fox Milne station to see the new service in action and met pump attendant Alfie Alduse and manager Sarvan Motchan.

Ginger's jazz fusion

LEGENDARY rock drummer Ginger Baker, renowned for his work with Cream and Blind Faith, is back on tour with a jazz fusion band.

Teaming up with saxophonist Pee Wee Ellis, bassist Alec Dankworth and percussionist Abass Dodoo, the quartet are performing as Jazz Confusion.

Baker's drumming has won critical acclaim for its flamboyance, showmanship and his use of two bass drums instead of the conventional single-bass kick drum. His claims to fame include once being voted the man least likely to survive the 60s! The audience at The Stables can expect to hear progressive jazz originals in a Thelonious Monk-style.

You can see See Jazz Confusion on Friday, September 21, at 8pm. Tickets £22.50 from www.thestables.org.

Creepy decorations will transform the resort with glowing Monster Fighter Ghost Minifigures taking over Miniland.

Brick-tastic prizes can be won by solving the clues on the Brick or Treat trail around the resort and at the Little Monster's Ball. Join Ollie the Dragon and Pink Brick who will be leading the dancing for some monster mash fun*.

Other Halloween highlights include LEGO® building workshops for everyone to enjoy.

The season ends with the thrilling LEGO Monster Fighter Fireworks*.

Evil Lord Vampyre has awakened his army of monsters and is escaping with the moonstones. The Monster Fighters must stop them before they complete their evil plan to eclipse the sun forever.

And there's also a unique 3D twist as special 3D glasses (additional charge) reveal thousands of exploding LEGO bricks.

You can also brave The Dragon Coaster, Pirate Falls and more in the dark rides*.

We are offering six readers a chance to win sets of four tickets that can be used by either adults or children and are valid to November 5, 2012.

To be in with a chance of winning, answer this simple question. What is Evil Lord Vampyre's army trying to escape with? A) Gemstones B) Tombstones C) Moonstones.

superheroes

FOR a night in this week, how about settling down with a whole bunch of superheroes?

The Avengers Assemble has been released on DVD and for those who like comic book icons, there can be few things better.

Films often focus on just one champion in costume, but the Assemble has brought together a whole bunch.

Iron Man, Captain America and Thor all turn up, as does The Incredible Hulk. The aim of the gang is simple – stop Thor's brother Loki from taking control of the Earth.

Robert Downey Jnr stars as Iron Man, Chris Evans is Captain America and Mark Ruffalo is the big green monster known as The Hulk.

Not all of the characters are male though, as Scarlett Johansson is involved as Black Widow, a highly trained spy.

It's Ruffalo as Hulk who really catches the eye, putting in a particularly memorable performance.

Everyone knows about the character's famous temper, which is brought to life perfectly.

There's plenty of action and general mayhem along the way. But it's not a case of too many cooks spoiling as the multiple superheroes really add to the spectacle.

A group of good guys battling against evil is nothing new, but this feels far from predictable.

It's been done really well, so anyone who decides to spend a couple of hours escaping reality will not be disappointed.

It might even make you want to be a superhero yourself!

Verandah Talk, on Stratford Road, Wolverton, is holding a special music night on Saturday from 7pm, with a selection of fantastic music and delicious food at a cost of £15 a ticket, with £5 going to the charity. To book or for more information call Taj Raja, restaurant manager, on 01908 317300.

theatremystery

THE unrivalled success of Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap is, in part, due to the fact that every audience is asked to keep the secret as to 'whodunit'.

But for one of the production's leading actors to be in the dark, isn't that taking the mystery element just a bit too far?

No, not when it's Bruno Langley. MK NEWS talked to him just before rehearsals started.

"I've never seen the show," confesses Bruno, "and I've never read the book so I don't know who the murderer is. Maybe it's me!"

Now in its 60th year, The Mousetrap is going on tour for the first time and Bruno, pictured right with fellow actors Karl Howman and Jemma Walker, plays Giles Ralston, co-owner of the country house in which the play is set.

The Mousetrap is at Milton Keynes Theatre from September 24-29. For tickets visit www.atgtickets.com. For the full interview visit www.mk-news.co.uk.

pictureshow

A UNIQUE selection of photography is on show at MK Gallery tomorrow.

TV MasterChef star James Perry shares a favourite seasonal recipe that will transform a traditional roast chicken. You can find more great tips and advice from James at www.thetattooedcook.com.

SO WE are getting into autumn now and this isn't a bad thing – the season is changing and so are our palates.

One of the things I particularly look forward to at this time of year are cobnuts. A member of the hazlenut family, they are harvested between August and October. You buy them fresh, unlike most nuts, and they can be eaten wet.

They have a very unique flavour that lends itself well to all manner of dishes, including all those lovely warming comfort foods that we are going to start craving as the darker winter nights begin to draw in.

I also like to use more under-utilised cuts of meat this time of year such as ox cheek and tail, shin of beef, hand of pork and cheek of pork. These cuts are worked hard and require low and slow cooking to get best results.

But one thing will always appear on our table no matter what the season, and that is the humble roast chicken.

It's a family favourite, and so here's is my recipe for cobnut stuffing for game or chicken:

1 onion, finely chopped
100g smoked streaky bacon, finely chopped
50g celery, finely chopped
1 tbsp sage, finely chopped
1 tbsp flat-leaf parsley, finely chopped
100g shelled cobnuts, crushed
150g breadcrumbs
1 egg

Method: Simply put all the ingredients, apart from the egg, into a mixing bowl and combine well.Then add the egg and mix well. You can add salt and black pepper to taste.

Either stuff your bird or simply bake on a lined baking tray at 180 degrees centigrade for 20 minutes or until golden.

cinemathrills

HALLOWEEN is rapidly approaching and there's a spooky new film release now out at the cinema.

Don't worry though, as ParaNorman is what's classed as a 'comedy thriller' – meaning there are plenty of laughs to go alongside the standard frights.

The film is a 3D animation (and the graphics do look impressive) which follows the fortunes of 11-year-old Norman Babcock, who has the strange ability to communicate with the dead.

Sadly for Norman, nobody seems to believe that he has this power and he is quickly frozen out by his family and bullied at school for boasting about his ability. But not for long!

Things change when a number of zombies and ghosts pop up in town from beyond the grave, which suddenly makes Norman's gift very important indeed.

Without giving too much away, various creatures begin to run amok as Norman's paranormal investigations become more and more weird.

In the end this bizarre film actually becomes great fun, as the strange world becomes an entertaining one to observe.

There's a PG rating, which means that it should be fine to take the family, although some of the ghouls may scare off some of the younger kids.

comedynight

CAMBRIDGE comedian Jon Murfin tops the bill at the Fox and Hounds in Stony Stratford on Saturday night.

After bursting on to the scene in 2011, Murfin has toured the country with tales of fatherhood and other life changing events.

Joining Murfin, who is known for a wicked sense of humour, is BBC Radio's Fenella Fudge. That's because the presenter and newsreader is now trying her hand at stand-up comedy, so her routine will be definitely be worth a look.

Other comedians on the bill include Henry King, Tammy Stone, Saban Kazim and Stephen Diplacito. Compere for the night is Joe Seville.

Many local comedians have been given their debuts as part of this event, so it's a great chance to enjoy some potential talent of the future.

The show is free and the fun gets under way at 8.30pm.

natureclass

WOULD your children like to find out more about the fascinating world of nature, including trees, animals and insects?

Milton Keynes Women and Work and The Parks Trust will be running an event on the Woodland Ridge of Campbell Park until Saturday, from 4-7pm, suitable for children up to age 11. Tell me about the club?

Eddie: The club has been running now for over 7 years and from 3 different venues in Northampton. The phenomenal success of the club means we are now bringing Jindokai Karate to families in Milton Keynes. I am the Chief Instructor and have been doing a variety of martial arts for over 16 years. All the instructors in the club are AMA qualified, CRB checked and insured.

So, what's your take on karate?

Eddie: Well, Karate is an excellent self defence system. Now days (in my opinion) there is too much focus on sport karate which tends to favour the young and athletic. Whilst there is a sport element to our 'syllabus', we focus more on karate's roots, which is self defence. That's why Jindokai karate is suitable for all the family.

What will people get from your classes?

Eddie: Well, if you take on board the principles I have mentioned, my students will become physically fitter, mentally stronger, and have the tools to deal with an attack on the street.
My philosophy is 'one club'. We teach adults and children together encouraging family participation. This is something that has worked so well for our club. How often do children and parents learn something together as equals? Our club is a wonderful way for families to come together to do something positive, healthy and that offers a vital skill set. Kids love learning with their parents.

Our classes are also a superb vehicle to help defend against cardiovascular disease, weight gain, diabetes and stress related illnesses.

Finally, Martial arts are great for teaching us a basic lesson in life. With effort, desire and belief you can achieve most things. This is especially important for children to learn.

Is your style of karate different?

Eddie: Firstly, let me say that I would encourage everyone to take up a martial art as long as it is with a good instructor. I am not of the opinion that there is only one way. There are no bad martial arts but there are bad instructors and clubs! To answer the question, I cannot comment on what other instructors teach but what I can say is Jindokai is a very special organisation. It is full of experts in different martial arts keen to share their knowledge. Students will learn punches, kicks, blocks, evasion, locks, takedowns and even some ground grappling. Not only will they learn Karate but Aikijutsu, Goshin Jutsu and Kobudo!

Learn the ultimate in self defence

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(A)
THE A5 TRUNK ROAD (REDMOOR ROUNDABOUT, MILTON KEYNES)
WESTBOUND ENTRY SLIP ROAD
(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 201_

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A5 Trunk Road in Milton Keynes to allow inspection works to the A5 Railway Bridge situated west of the A5/A421 Redmoor Roundabout to be carried out in safety.

The works, which would take place over 1 day (7.30am – 4pm), are expected to begin on, or after, Sunday 14 October 2012 and carried out using a slip road closure in conjunction with lane closures on the A5.

The effect of the Order would be to close the A5 westbound entry slip road leading from the A5/A421 Redmoor Roundabout, diverting A5 traffic eastbound to the A4146 Bletcham Way/Caldecotte Roundabout, there to turn and return on the A5 westbound.

The closure (which would not apply to emergency service, works, winter service maintenance or traffic officer vehicles) and diversion route would be clearly signed throughout the works period.

The Order would come into force on 8 October 2012 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

Mrs A V Middleton, An official of the Highways Agency

General Enquiries relating to this notice may be made in writing to Andy Shilliday at the Highways Agency, Woodlands, Manton Lane, Bedford, MK41 3LW or by telephoning 01234 796197.

SECTION 53 OF THE WILDLIFE AND COUNTRYSIDE ACT 1981
THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF MILTON KEYNES
PART 2 (BUCKINGHAMSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL, MILTON KEYNES BOROUGH COUNCIL AREA ONLY) DEFINITIVE MAP AND STATEMENT
THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF MILTON KEYNES (UNRECORDED FOOTPATH – PARISH OF BROUGHTON AND MILTON KEYNES) DEFINITIVE MAP MODIFICATION ORDER 2012

The above order, made on 14th September 2012, if confirmed as made, will modify the Part 2 (Buckinghamshire County Council, Milton Keynes Borough Council Area Only) Definitive Map and Statement by adding the footpath described in the Schedule below, following discovery by the authority of evidence which (when considered with all other relevant evidence available to them) shows that a right of way which is not shown on the map or in the statement subsists or is reasonably alleged to subsist over the land in the area to which the map and statement relates, being a right of way to which this part applies.

A copy of the order and the order map may be seen free of charge at the Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes MK9 3HG (Ref: Legal Services/Oakgrove/RoW/005684/JPJ) from 9.00am to 5.00pm, Monday - Friday. Copies of the order and the order map may be bought there at the price of £3.00.

Any representation or objection relating to the order must be sent in writing to the Acting Assistant Director – Law & Governance, Milton Keynes Council,

PO Box No.111, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Central Milton Keynes MK9 3HG (Ref: Legal Services/Oakgrove/005684/JPJ) not later than Monday 5th November 2012 stating the grounds on which it is made.

If no representations or objections are duly made to the order, or to any part thereof, or if any so made are withdrawn, the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes may, instead of submitting the order to the Secretary of State for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, itself confirm the order. If the order is submitted to the Secretary of State in whole or in part, any representations or objections which have not been withdrawn will be sent with it.

Dated this 19th day of September 2012.

THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF MILTON KEYNES
(FOOTPATH NUMBERS 71 AND 73 WOLVERTON (PARTS) ADJACENT TO RADCLIFFE SCHOOL, WOLVERTON) (TEMPORARY CLOSURE) ORDER 2012

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes has, on the 19th September 2012, made an Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. Its effect will be to temporarily prohibit all access along those lengths of Footpath Numbers 71 and 73, Wolverton that run adjacent and to the rear of Radcliffe School, Wolverton from the junction with Stratford Road, Wolverton continuing in a south-easterly direction for a distance of 520 metres to the south west of Radcliffe School, Wolverton.

The Council is satisfied that the temporary closure is necessary to enable works to be carried out, to enable a perimeter fence to be erected because of the likelihood of danger to the public whilst a new footpath is constructed within the new housing development. It is anticipated the temporary closure will commence from Monday 24th September 2012 until 23rd March 2013, inclusive.

The alternative route for access will be to continue along the existing footpath on Stratford Road, Wolverton to its junction with Great Monks Street, turn left onto the footpath on Great Monks Street and continue to its junction with Greenleys roundabout, then turn left and join the redway and vice versa.

There will be no exemptions from the provisions of this Order due to safety reasons.

The Order will come into operation on 24th September 2012 and will continue in force for a maximum period of 6 months or until the likelihood of danger to the public has ceased, which ever is the sooner. If the danger to the public persists up to the maximum period stated, a further Order may be made with the consent of the Secretary of State.

Any person committing a breach of the Order will be liable upon prosecution to such fine as is prescribed by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

2. From 10.30pm on Saturday 27th October 2012 until 5.00am Monday 29th October 2012.

The alternative route for traffic will be to proceed via Simpson Road, Staplehall Road, Watling Street and back to Simpson Road, Bletchley and vice versa.

The 7.5 tonne environmental weight limit Order affecting Staplehall Road will be temporarily suspended during the hours that this temporary closure Order will be in effect.

There will be no exemptions from the provisions of the Order, except for emergency service vehicles and military vehicles on operational duties.

Assistant boss MICK HARFORD writes exclusively for MK NEWS every week

This week Mick discusses the impact of Dons First Team Coach Ian Wright...

IT'S been great to work with Ian Wright on the Dons training ground.

During my playing career I was lucky enough to play against the first team coach on several occasions.

When he was at Arsenal, he was definitely one of the best strikers in the business and the teams I played for were always aware of the talents he possessed.

The task we always spoke about was how to contain him.

These days he comes in a few times a week and obviously does a lot of work with the strikers, but he also helps out the rest of the squad as well.

He is great with the forwards but even the defenders can learn from him.

Ian will give little tips and points and remind players to do the basics right, things like body shape to give one example.

Sometimes, when you are playing football, the basics can be the things that you forget to put into practice.

Ian leaves players full of confidence and makes sure that they are neither scared or frightened.

He can also be a bit of a joker, but that goes for myself and the manager too.

There's always people having a laugh at the club, but there is definitely a time and a place for it – there's also a time to work and a time to be serious.

Recently I have been playing golf with the manager and occasionally things can get quite competitive between us.

We don't play every day, but once all the planning and work is done it's a good way to take your mind off the next game.

SPORTSSHORTS

RUGBY UNION

Milton Keynes 23 Reading Abbey 31

CITY have opened their Southern Counties North season with back-to-back defeats following this setback.

After last week's local derby defeat to Olney, it was Reading Abbey, another recently relegated side, who were their conquerers on Saturday.

Two Phil Powell penalties gave MK a 6-0 lead at half-time, but home tries from Scott Aspinall, Dan Rolfe and Simon Kocklebergh were in vain after the break as Abbey capitalised on errors to stretch away, even denying City a losing bonus point.

City will need to pick up their first win if they are to meet their target of promotion this season, after they came agonisingly close last time out.

There was better news for Olney who maintained their 100 per cent record thanks to a 27-10 win in their second match against Wallingford.

In the South West 1 East, Bletchley picked up their first win by seeing off Cheltenham 24-21.

LOCAL FOOTBALL

THERE was a fine away win for Newport Pagnell Town, who triumphed 3-2 at Peterborough Northern Star to go fourth in the United Counties Premier.

Stony Stratford Town beat Newport Pagnell's Reserves 6-2 in the Berks & Bucks Intermediate Cup, and New Bradwell St Peter saw off Bedgrove Dynamos 2-0 in the same competition.

TABLE TENNIS

ANDREW Baggaley was due to compete for England last night, ina European Championship qualifier against Romania in Hull. The city player will be joined in the team by Liam Pitchford and Danny Reed.

TOURING CARS

JAMES Nash returns to World Touring Cars action this weekend with two races in the United States.

The Newport Pagnell Team Aon driver will be looking for points as he takes his Ford Focus to California's Sonoma Raceway.

He said: "I'm determined to show that we're quicker than we've been able to demonstrate in recent races."

DONS 1 NOTTS COUNTY 1 - LEAGUE ONE ATT: 7121

Chance: Gary MacKenzie thumps in a header

Home record still intact after draw with County itself when MacDonald darted into the box, but he was unable to round Magpies keeper Bartosz Bialkowski or cut the ball back for Dan Powell.

There wasn't much between the sides with neither team taking the match by the scruff of the neck.

The first goal looked like it could be all important and it fell to Keith Curle's visitors following a strong spell of pressure.

It began when a slippery-handed Martin fumbled Alan Judge's free-kick behind, and after the corner Dons survived loud penalty calls when Josh Labadie collapsed in the box.

Any injustice County may have felt was swiftly forgotten though as skipper Bishop was given too much time to pick his spot from range, and he gleefully did so with a rocket which flew past a helpless Martin and into the corner.

It was a moment of magic in a game of few openings and Dons responded by winning three quick corners, which all came and went.

An equaliser looked certain when Otsemobor squared for Powell, but the winger found the bounce tricky and couldn't smash home from close up.

Judge had another try from a free-kick shortly before the break and Martin had to produce a super stop to push the ball wide as the strike was on target at the near post.

County were the better side after their breakthrough and Dons needed to raise it in the second half, and an early sighter from Williams was just inches over.

That was his last chance from midfield though as Robinson introduced O'Shea for Kay, which shuffled Williams back into the defence.

The new look middle hadn't gelled in the fashion the Dons boss would have wanted and a change seemed necessary with homes chances few and far between.

Yoann Arquin wasted a free header for County and Gary MacKenzie, who shook off a dead leg to play, missed a long ranger at the other end.

It wasn't quite clicking for Dons against a determined and hard working County side who were unwilling to surrender their lead.

Lowe came on for Luke Chadwick in an attacking switch and O'Shea flashed a shot wide as the hosts searched desperately for a clear cut chance.

Attacks were fizzing out but O'Shea suddenly produced a sublime finish to level the scores.

The Irish winger bent a lovely curler just out of Bialkowski's reach and in at the far corner, and Dons now looked rejuvenated.

A pass flashed across the face was nearly tapped home by MacDonald as County, now lacking the pace of the departed Campbell-Ryce, looked rattled County brought on Lee Hughes for Zoko, who took an age to leave the pitch, before Darren Potter ballooned a shot over the County keeper's bar.

MacDonald was withdrawn for Alan Smith as the Dons tempo remained at a much higher level than it had done previously.

Dean Lewington's shot would have found the net if a County player hadn't slid in to block, a near miss which saw Robinson kick the hoardings in frustration.

Smith was crowded out by visiting players as he tried to pull the trigger before County again took their time with another substitution, clearly happy with a point.

It was a strong late flurry by Dons but in the end it came too late, as they couldn't find enough time to grab a precious second.

However, their unbeaten run at home continued ahead of the trip to Bury on Saturday.

Dons: Martin, Otsemobor, Lewington, MacKenzie, Williams, Gleeson, Potter, MacDonald (Smith 81), Powell, Kay (O'Shea 53) , Chadwick (Lowe 63).

Notts County: Bialkowski, Kelly, Bishop, Leacock, Liddle, Judge, Zoko (L.Hughes 77), Arquin (Showunmi 86), Labadie, Campbell-Ryce (J.Hughes 64), Regan.

WAKEBOARDING

CITY competitor Chloe Goudie brought home gold from the European Cable Wakeboarding Championships in France.

Goudie triumphed in her category in Toulouse, adding the title to the gold she won at the British National Championships.

The 17-year-old, a part-time instructor at WakeMK on Willen Lake, led the way from the start of the competition by qualifying first in her heat in the junior ladies section.

She comfortably made it through to the final and there needed just the first of two runs to secure the gold, as she won by a massive margin to allow a celebratory final run.

Chloe has recently moved up to the junior ladies category from the girls section, where she was crowned World Champion back in 2011/2012.

She is now back in training for the IWWF World Championships which will be held in the Philippines this November.

Owner of WakeMK Mark Robinson said: "We are very proud of what Chloe has achieved.

"She was dominant throughout the competition. It's great to see all her hard training has paid off."

SWIMMING

A TEAM of young City of Milton Keynes swimmers competed in the third round of the Junior League, hosted by CMK at Bletchley Leisure Centre on Saturday.

All of the team members swam well during the competition, including some new recruits who are taking their first competitive strides.

In the end, CMK finished fifth in what was a very close round with some fantastic racing.

First place individual swims went to Marcus McAuliffe, Mia Murphy, Jason Ashley, and Max Murphy, and the boys' U12 medley relay team of Miles McAuliffe, Max Murphy, Michael Pentland and Christian Bywater also picked up a first place finish.

Second place individual swims were achieved by Lauryn Mason, Miles McAuliffe, Mabel Painter, Chloe Osili, Georgia Richardson and Connol Keegan.

There were also second place relay finishes for the girls' U12 medley team, consisting of Lauryn Mason, Chloe Osili, Daniella Bright and Ella Eastlake, the boys U12 freestyle team of Miles McAuliffe, Max Murphy, Christian Bywater and Michael Pentland and the boys' U10 medley team of Will Barry, Cooper Tomkins, Jason Ashley, and Josh Loveday.

ATHLETICS

OLYMPIC hero Greg Rutherford was second to compatriot Chris Tomlinson at the Great City Games in Newcastle on Saturday – in his last event of the season.

The long jumper recorded a best distance of 7.89m at the purpose built venue in the heart of the city. Tomlinson, with whom Rutherford shares the British record, lept 8.18m to win.

Rutherford picked up a groin injury in Birmingham last month and has struggled to reach full fitness since then.

But he competed in the City Games, which pits Great Britain and Northern Ireland athletes against the United States, as team captain. The USA won the match by six points to three.

Rutherford said: "I picked up an injury in Birmingham which I've been struggling to get over, it's been a bit of a nightmare.

"I came here more because I was team captain and I wanted to get behind everybody.

"It's about points so I wasn't too concerned about my own performance. I tried to do as well as I could."

• Meanwhile, there were some excellent results for Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club at the Inter-Area Veteran's Match in Solihull, including a new club and Eastern Veterans F55 record for Diane Baldwin, who finished second in the 800m in a time of 2m 40.3s.

There were further second place finishes for Steve Herring in the M35 3000m, John Browne in the M50 100m and 200m and Alana Slater in the F35 100m and 200m.

The club finished 24th out of 58 teams at the Round Norfolk Relay, Lara Bromilow was the second woman home in the London Pride 10k and Joe Devlin won the Open University Handicap five mile race.

PARALYMPICS

Alistair committed to pushing for Rio

ALISTAIR Patrick-Heselton is aiming for a spot in the Rio Paralympics as a pact with a gold medallist means he doesn't have a choice in the matter.

The city footballer, a key member of Great Britain's cerebral palsy seven-a-side team, made the agreement with London 200m champion Richard Whitehead and it was swiftly made public.

"I've got a little bit of a problem," Patrick-Heselton, pictured, told MK SPORT.

"At the closing ceremony, Richard was showing me his medals and I was getting really jealous.

"We made a pact and shook hands, saying that we'd both make ourselves at least fit enough to be able to be selected.

"I tweeted that to him and he re-tweeted it so all of his followers have seen it. I don't have a choice anymore as I'm a man of my word, so I will get myself as fit as I can be."

Former QPR player Patrick-Heselton has been on quite a journey since a car crash in 2006 left him in a coma for three months and nearly ended his life.

A contact at the FA got him involved with the seven-a-side set-up, and Alistair had dreams of a medal ahead of London 2012 which sadly didn't come to pass thanks to a seventh place finish.

He said: "As I'm not wearing a medal, I'll always say that we could have done a bit better.

"You don't understand how much I thought getting a medal was possible, and how much I wanted one.

"We never trained to lose, and some of the training camps we had before were fantastic.

"Unfortunately, when we needed things to click and really be at their peak they just weren't there and deep down perhaps we let ourselves down.

"I knew what my expectations were and I didn't think they were unrealistic at the time.

"I'm bitterly disappointed, I really am, but it's one of those things and it's a big learning curve. We have to suck it in and try and go again."

All three medal winners and the fourth placed team consisted of professional players, and Patrick-Heselton believes that is the way forward for GB.

The hosts suffered a 3-0 defeat to Brazil in their first game, followed by a 7-1 reverse to Ukraine which meant that there was no way out of the group.

A treble of assists for the city player followed in the last group match, a 4-0 win over the USA, and he then grabbed a precious goal in a 4-3 extra time defeat to Argentina as matches to determine fifth to eighth in the tournament began.

Another win over the Americans, this time a 3-1 victory, ended the campaign.

"I was so passionate to wear the GB shirt and to do it for the people who were there," Patrick-Heselton said. "That was the real buzz for me, and I'll always cherish my goal.

"I ghosted off my marker at a corner and it sat up nicely, it was really good to see it rippling in the back of the net."

Carr: "This is the best Lightning squad in years"

ADAM Carr is preparing for his fourth season as captain of Milton Keynes Lightning and thinks that the current crop of players is one of the best squads he has seen.

Lightning begin their English Premier League campaign by hosting Manchester Phoenix on Saturday and after missing out on trophies last time out, the skipper is ready to go again.

Carr thinks that new arrivals have helped to address areas where Lightning were perhaps found wanting last season, and he believes that his team will again be right in the hunt for silverware.

"I think this is the best looking squad in a good few years," he told MK SPORT. "We've got all the elements.

"Chris Wiggins and Nick Chinn have signed which gives us toughness that we have been missing, and we've got a prolific scorer in Adam Calder, which we have missed as well.

"Hopefully we'll have a good year, the mood is trophies."

Lightning finished fifth in the league last year and agonisingly missed out on the play-off finals day in Coventry after a 7-4 home win against Slough Jets was overturned thanks to a 7-3 win for the Berkshire side in the second leg 24-hours later.

Skipper: Adam Carr
Pic: Jez Tibbetts

In the EPL Cup, Nick Poole's side lost 1-0 on aggregate to Sheffield Steeldogs in the semi-final.

Carr said: "In the league we were in contention until about Christmas and the play-offs were a crazy weekend. We think we will be in for all three cups again."

This weekend, Lightning lost control of the Ashes, the pre-season prize contested with Peterborough Phantoms, after a 10-6 aggregate loss to their local rivals.

Although bragging rights are important, Carr said lessons had been learnt before more important games this weekend.

The Manchester match is quickly followed by a tricky looking dual league/cup trip to last year's league champions Guildford Flames on Sunday.

Carr is looking forward to again heading up the side, something which means a lot to the 28-year-old forward.

He said: "I'm massively proud. It was a massive honour when I became captain four years ago and it is still an honour to lead the team out now."

CYCLING

Stannard ready for world road race bid

MILTON Keynes rider Ian Stannard will be part of the British team competing in Sunday's World Championship Road Race, after helping Team Sky to a ninth place finish in the Team Time Trial this weekend.

Mark Cavendish is defending the world crown he won in Copenhagen last year in Limburg, and 25-year-old Stannard, the British Road Race champion, will once again be by his side.

A nine-strong team has been selected but the British camp has remained cool about the chances of Cavendish repeating the feat, with the hilly Dutch circuit not playing to the strengths of the Isle of Man rider.

Instead, Britain hope to build for the future with a team that features a mix of youth and experience.

Tour de France winner Bradley Wiggins and runner-up Chris Froome have also been selected, as well as Luke Rowe, Alex Dowsett, Ben Swift, Steve Cummings and specialist climber Jonathan Tiernan-Locke, the winner of the recent Tour of Britain.

Stannard, a former Team Keynes rider, was also part of the unsuccessful attempt to win gold for Cavendish at the Olympics this summer, and most recently rode in the Tour of Spain as part of an attempt to guide Froome to victory.

Known for his tireless work in the peloton in aid of his colleagues, Stannard will again have a key role to play in whatever tactics the British team decide to adopt on the challenging Dutch course.

In the team time-trial on Sunday, a new event for the World Championships, Team Sky clocked a time of one hour, four minutes and 49 seconds, as Belgian outfit Omega Pharma-Quick-Step came out on top in front of BMC Racing.

Stannard was part of a six-man team, also featuring Edvald Boasson Hagen, Dowsett, Juan Antonio Flecha, Sergio Henao and Geraint Thomas, with the time of the fourth cyclist over the line counting at the end.

Team Sky were up against it after losing Henao early, and Thomas then had difficulty on one of the climbs, leaving the far from ideal situation of just four riders.

Most teams struggled on the famous Dutch hill the Cauberg, as the crucial fourth-timed man became distanced heading into the all-important final kilometre of the day.

Sky, however, believe that a ninth placed finish represents a good return for their efforts, especially after the issues the team faced out on the tricky circuit.

Gabi's not Down after Paralympics

FOURTEEN-year-old wheelchair fencer Gabi Down wasn't fazed despite a last minute change of opponents at the Paralympics.

The Oakgrove School pupil competed in the women's team event alongside Gemma Collis and Justine Moore and for weeks the trio had been anticipating an opening round contest against Hungary.

That changed though when bosses decided to update the world rankings at the last moment, which meant the hosts were instead paired with Hong Kong.

Every team were in the same boat but the new draw seemed particularly harsh on Gabi's Great Britain, who now found themselves up against a fencing powerhouse and one of the favourites.

It also meant that pain-staking preparation work on the Hungarians went out of the window.

"We did five months of video analysis on Hungary and we had a good chance of beating them," Gabi told MK SPORT.

"But with Hong Kong, it was practically impossible to beat them."

Only eight countries competed in the straight knock-out tournament, meaning a first match win is essential if you are to claim a medal.

Hong Kong beat Britain 45-26, which represented an excellent result for a youthful home team whose oldest member – Moore – was only 20.

Gabi, who hopes to compete in several Paralympic Games, fenced against competitors more than twice her age and picked up several key hits against Hong Kong, looking far from overawed.

Classification defeats to Russia and France followed for Britain, meaning an eighth place finish overall, but the city fencer, who now has World Cup events to look forward to, took plenty away from the whole experience.

She said: "Overall I think we worked amazingly well, and I didn't realise how much the crowd would help you.

"There was a wave of noise and it was just incredible.

"The whole thing was crazy, I'd open my curtains in the village and see the Olympic Stadium right there.

"Then at breakfast I kept bumping into my idols like David Weir."

Super sub: Jay O'Shea produces a lovely finish to level the scores

Jay's curler earns a point

DONS 1 NOTTS COUNTY 1

SUPER sub Jay O'Shea's cool finish salvaged a point for Dons against high flying Notts County last night.

The winger buried a finish into the bottom corner with just over 20 minutes to play after Neal Bishop's thunderbolt had given the second-placed Magpies the lead.

Dons looked a different outfit after O'Shea's strike, which followed a more low key performance, but there was no time to claim all three points as they cranked up the pressure late on.

Charlie MacDonald's reward for banging in the winner from the bench against Yeovil on Saturday was a place in the starting line-up, at the expense of Ryan Lowe.

Shaun Williams was pushed up from the back into the midfield with Antony Kay filling the Irishman's shoes in defence, but Dean Bowditch was relegated to a place among the substitutes.

Karl Robinson has often spoke of his desire to use Williams in a more advanced position and he would have had an early shot on goal had Jon Otsemobor's cross, which was nicely dummied by MacDonald, not hit a County leg.

The Magpies cleared and quickly produced a chance of their own which brought the best out of Dons keeper David Martin.

Jamal Campbell-Ryce cut inside and fired in a rasping low drive which seemed to be arrowing inside the post before Martin dived to tip it away.

From the resulting corner, Francois Zoko perhaps should have done better with a header he sent off target.

Dons survived and then found their shooting boots at the other end, but an effort by a forward thinking Kay skewed off target.

A much better chance presented
